edddison Information Center

Discover new dimensions

The edddison information center is an innovative application that enables users to experience 2D and 3D content interactively. Present projects in a compelling and impressive way. Provide valuable insights into planned initiatives for citizens, customers, stakeholders, and business partners.

Discover entirely new possibilities for exhibitions, product presentations, construction information, public relations, marketing, visualization, entertainment, and much more.

The edddison information center provides cutting-edge multimedia, real-time, and interaction technologies. It integrates data from standard graphic, text, and CAD programs, as well as video and 3D laser scans, delivering content in the highest quality.

The edddison Information Center empowers you to:

- Communicate ideas clearly and impressively

- Illustrate products interactively and convincingly

- Showcase projects realistically even before their completion

See and Understand Ideas

edddison.com